

THE HUMAN FACTOR

A Central Station is only as good as the people who operate it.

Each member of the UNICOM PROTECTION staff undergoes a thorough background check prior to employment. Once they become part of our team they enter an extensive training program. The learning process is continuous. Monthly testing of Central Station employees includes an introduction to new procedures as well as a review of current and disaster procedures.

Most importantly they are SIA (Security Industry Association) certified. Overall our dispatchers and supervisors operate at a level of excellence that allows you to feel confident about your investment. Each alarm is handled with care and attention, as if it were coming from a family member's home or business.
