You're in control!

Getting information on your customers is sometimes tedious. Going through hardcopy files or searching through your computer, where accounts may be taking up valuable space, is a thing of the past.

UNICOM PROTECTION allows you to control your accounts instantly through encrypted connections via the internet with E-link. You now have the flexibility to submit data entry requests, update your customers' main data, change contacts, zones, schedules, holidays, and notes.

With real time access to your entire customer base, and real time download, you are notified of any customer problem immediately, allowing you to act proactively.

With E-link "auto-page" you receive immediate notification if a customer has a serious problem that would require emergency service.

You can generate reports on your customers' activity and make a variety of changes through secure connections. With "e-commerce verification" all changes are verified after being sent to data entry. You are notified when the changes are accepted and made.
